

Glenda Brooks

Director – 2009-2010

I was originally born in Columbia, South Carolina, but was raised in Richmond, Virginia. I graduated from Heritage High School and attended Richmond Professional Institute (now VCU) from 1964-1968. I earned my paralegal degree from J. Sergeant Reynolds Community college in 1980 and worked for several Richmond law firms, including Wade & Cross, Hunton & Williams, Florance, Gordon, & Brown, Kane & Jeffries. I was also office manager/real estate closer for Virginia Escrow & Title.

In 1992, I moved from the “big city” to Deltaville, Virginia to work for Robert P. Brooks, Esq. and became president of Middlesex Title Company. I have been involved in real estate transactions for almost 30 years.

I have been married to Robert P. Brooks for 16 years and have seven wonderful grandchildren. I enjoy boating and live off the Chesapeake Bay which is like a “little bit of heaven”. I also enjoy traveling and have visited many wonderful countries with my husband.

Some more about Glenda...

Favorite Quote: "Any day now gigi." My grandchildren say that to me when I don't move fast enough (that is what they call me).

Favorite Book: Eat, Pray and Love by Elizabeth Gilbert

Favorite Food: Eggs Benedict

Who would you like to have lunch with (dead or alive)? Clint Walker - played the role of Cheyenne in an old tv western - love of my life.

What do you like most about the industry? Meeting new people from all walks of life.

Why VLTA? Why not? The people are great and it is nice to make new friends and learn from them.
